

Catchbox

Engage your audience with the throwable microphone

Catchbox is the world's first soft wireless microphone that you can throw into an audience to kick-start a discussion. Catchbox improves lectures, conferences, and group work by encouraging audiences to share ideas and discuss challenges. This product features:

- Customization — with your logo, company color or design of your choosing
- Lightweight design — to be easily tossed from one person to the next
- Affordability — more cost effective than multiple microphones
- Ease-of-use — no more having runners speeding around the room to pass a microphone
- Fun — standing in line behind a microphone is a thing of the past
